

Factory Cleaning

Technical Training Solutions delivered by

Course Summary

This 1 day training is delivered by trainers who have experience in the subject and will be able to engage in discussion and shown best practice with delegates. The course has been designed to be interactive, combining group exercises, open discussions and a clear transfer of information. The workshop will be run in a relaxed and informal style. The workshop is not designed to measure delegates presentation skills or pre-course knowledge.

Course Detail

Food Safety Management is fundamental to consumer protection and Tesco's reputation. It is crucial to the future and success of your business. Factory hygiene is a major part of this.

The one day course focuses on the knowledge of detergents and cleaning and how to evaluate the hygiene controls in a factory against the TFMS requirements. Some topics include; the cleaning process, how detergents work and types and applications of detergents, disinfectants, auditing & monitoring and health & safety requirements.

The training includes a number of group exercises and some practical demonstrations.

Factory Cleaning training is designed to give more detailed information to those responsible for any part of the cleaning process or for those assessing cleaning practises. The delegates are given trouble-shooting projects and can learn from real problem situations that have been resolved.

Technical, Hygiene, Production

The course is limited to 16 delegates who sit at a 'U'-shaped table plan to promote discussion. The course is relaxed and informal, highly interactive with group exercises and open discussions.

The training is not mandatory.

Tesco believe that the vast majority of our suppliers will benefit from this training and it will help individual development and understanding.

The course fee is £295 plus VAT per delegate.

All individuals interested in the course should visit www.ttsbookings.com and fill in the on-line booking form for the course you would like to attend.

If you need any more information or assistance regarding this course please call Ieva Mockute on 0845 3024780 or email accounts@qadex.com