

Tesco Non Food Manufacturing Standard (396)

Technical Training Solutions delivered by

Course Summary

This 2 day workshop is delivered by specialist trainers who have both the knowledge and experience in the subject and will therefore enable the most up-to-date information and thinking to be shared with the delegates. The course has been designed to be highly interactive, combining group exercises, open discussions and a clear transfer of information rather than a clause by clause trawl through the document. The workshop will be run in a relaxed and informal style. The workshop is not designed to teach auditing skills or to measure delegates presentation skills

Course Detail

Non Food Safety Management is fundamental to consumer protection and Tesco's reputation. It is crucial to the future and success of your business. The course is designed to improve the knowledge and competence of anyone in the Non Food manufacturing industry. This is a new course.

Delegates are given an overview of the Tesco Non Food Manufacturing Standard (396) and how the requirements are interpreted by Tesco Technical Managers and PIU Auditors. The course is not designed to teach auditing skills. It is a workshop style course designed to introduce the Tesco Non Food Manufacturing Standard and provide valuable examples of how it is applied in factories. This workshop does not cover products which do not fall under the scope of this standard e.g. hardlines or clothing. Please refer to your Tesco TM if you have any questions.

The course is aimed at all disciplines and is not exclusively technical teams. Manufacturing, production and engineering managers have thoroughly enjoyed the course and stand to gain the most benefit from the training. It is possibly the only training available that provides manufacturing, production and engineering managers with an overview of “what good looks like”.

The course is limited to 16 delegates who sit at a 'U'-shaped table plan to promote discussion. The course is relaxed and informal, highly interactive with group exercises and open discussions.

The training is not mandatory. However, we would strongly encourage suppliers to consider sending representatives from all factory facing job functions.

Tesco believe that the vast majority of our suppliers will benefit from this training and it will help individual development and understanding.

The course can be delivered at your sites with agreement from your CTM and the PIU Team.

The course fee is £560 plus VAT per delegate, which includes 1 nights accommodation and breakfast at the venue and a group evening meal.

All individuals interested in the course should visit www.ttsbookings.com and fill in the on-line booking form for the course you would like to attend.
